Kansas 618 Reporting Method Student Profile

Upon data entry / imported submission,
a student profile is created.

Each student profile displays an indicator for each of the OSEP tables that are collected in this system and reported through EDEN.

The inclusion / exclusion status of each
OSEP table is displayed.

If all required data elements for a given table are valid, then the table status =
Yes.

If any required data element for a given table has an exception, then the table status = No.

Subgroup categories are also displayed.

Kansas 618 Reporting Method

The Verification Process

Each student record goes through an internal data verification process to identify exceptions in the data.

All data fields are checked for valid content, and various rules of logic are applied.

Students with anomalies are listed with a code and description. The same verifications are found on individual student records.

An Excel report can be created to notify providers or make response to KSDE. Records can be sorted and filtered for the target audience.

Data corrections can be typed in the student record or a fix is made in the local IEP program, and a corrected record is resubmitted.

The verification process is rerun, and corrections are made until all of the verifications are resolved.

Kansas 618 Reporting Method Creating 618 Final Reports

Final 618 reports are created at the state level when :

- A. The collection window closes.
- B. All open verifications have been resolved.

The school year is selected, and the report type is selected.

The Create Report button is selected.

Next the application applies the OSEP requirements to all student records for the target school year. All students meeting the requirements are selected for the report. Then the Table inclusion status is updated on each student record.

Once completed the report is generated as an Excel file where it can be viewed and saved.

LEAs are notified the final report is available for their review. After review period, EDEN data elements are copied from the Excel file into individual text files (002, 0089 for example).

Data Collection Dates for 2014 / 2015 School Year

Below are the data collections, due dates, and "submission by/certification by" information for SY 2014-2015. Boxes that are shaded in yellow and contain bold text indicate a data collection that requires certification. These dates will be constant year after year, but may shift slightly to account for Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays when a submission is required. Note: The "Certification Due Date" is a strict deadline; no resubmissions will be accepted after the date indicated.

Data Collection Roles

- Memo with procedural instructions disseminated to all special education administrators, LEA county contacts, and RESA WVEIS coordinators
 - Also available online
- Superintendent certification instructions originate from Data Governance Manager
 - Delineate timelines, order, and roles in certification process

Data Quality Checks and Certification

- Most special education collections contain edit checks that have been developed collaboratively between special education and the Office of Data Management and Analysis staff over the last decade.
- Until School Year 2013-2014, most additional data quality checks occurred after the LEAs submitted their 618 data.

- All possible errors that weren't avoided through edit checks (e.g., unlikely codes for a given age range or exceptionality) were returned to the LEAs and special education staff for additional review, verification, and/or possible correction.
- Process was tedious and time consuming for both LEAs and WVDE

- During School Year 2013-2014, West Virginia's SLDS initiative advanced the state's educational data system and governance structure.
 - Data dictionary developed
 - Statewide certification procedures enhanced
 - New applications to facilitate data quality and LEA verification

- The type and format of the new data applications used in the submission and verification process mirrored Data Accountability Center's Data Transmission Spreadsheets (DTS).
- Yet, they were tailored to West Virginia's policies, exceptionality categories, and other metadata as reported to OSEP.
